1 Corporate Strategy & OKRs (2026-2028)

1.1 Annual Business Goals

TechNova’s primary objective for FY 2026 is market expansion into the EMEA region and achieving a total Annual Recurring Revenue (ARR) target of $500 Million USD.

1.2 Mergers & Acquisitions (M&A) - Project Phoenix

CONFIDENTIAL: TechNova is in late-stage due diligence for the acquisition of CloudNet Inc. (Codename: Project Phoenix). The allocated budget for this acquisition is $120M in a cash-and-stock deal. If finalized, structural reorganization will commence in Q3 2026, leading to a 15% headcount reduction in redundant operational roles.

2 Financial Budgets & Targets

Department	FY 2026 Approved Budget (USD)
Research & Development	$85,000,000
Sales & Marketing	$60,000,000
Operations & HR	$25,000,000
Infrastructure & IT	$40,000,000

3 Executive Compensation & Equity

C-Suite and Executive VP compensation consists of base salary, performance-based cash bonuses (tied directly to EBITDA targets), and Restricted Stock Units (RSUs).

- Vesting Schedule: Executive RSUs are subject to a 4-year cliff vesting schedule to ensure long-term strategic alignment.
- Golden Parachute Clause: In the event of a hostile takeover or acquisition resulting in CEO/CFO termination, a severance payout equivalent to 3x base salary plus accelerated vesting of all RSUs is triggered.

4 Risk Management & Q4 Board Summary

The Board highlighted macroeconomic headwinds as a primary risk for FY 26. The CFO has been directed to freeze hiring for L1 and L2 roles in Q1 and Q2 to preserve runway and ensure capital efficiency during the Project Phoenix acquisition phase.
